Advocacy and Policy Development: Promoting Legislative Measures to Safeguard Children from Abuse and Neglect

Susan Nelson,
Executive
Director La
Partnership for Children &
Families

Join us for this month's Coffee and Conversations series for this session focused on the role of advocacy in shaping policies that protect children, the process of developing and promoting legislative measures, and the importance of community and stakeholder involvement. Attendees will gain insights into effective advocacy strategies, understand the legislative process, and learn how to engage with policymakers to champion the cause of child protection. This session will provide practical examples, aimed at empowering participants to become strong advocates for safeguarding children from abuse and neglect.
