Breaking the Cycle: The Intersection of Domestic Violence and Child Abuse

April 16, 2025

12pm-1pm

Join us for this month's LCTF Coffee and Conversations featuring Mariah Stidham Wineski, Executive Director of the Louisiana Coalition Against Domestic Violence. This insightful discussion will explore the deep and often overlooked connections between domestic violence and child abuse. We will examine how exposure to domestic violence affects children's development, increases their risk of abuse, and impacts their long-term well-being. The session will also highlight strategies for intervention, prevention, and support for survivors and their children. Whether you are a child welfare professional, advocate, or community member, this conversation will provide valuable insights into breaking the cycle of violence and fostering safe, supportive environments for families.
